SALES CONDITIONS

The BREITLING EMERGENCY watch is equipped with a transmitter that operates on the 121.5MHz. aeronautical distress frequency. Misuse of this transmitter will disrupt air traffic as well as the activities of rescue organizations. For security reasons, the sale of the BREITLING EMERGENCY is subject to the undertaking on the part of the purchaser to comply with the following provisions:

1 The BREITLING EMERGENCY can be sold to and used only by the purchaser, who has presented proper identification and who has been informed and has accepted the terms and conditions of sale and the restrictions on use described in this document and in the "EMERGENCY INFORMATION" booklet (the "Purchaser").

2 The transmitter cannot and must not be activated except by the Purchaser in an aviation distress incident involving a plane, helicopter other means of aeronautical transportation requiring operation by a licensed pilot and for the purpose set forth below at No. 6 (an "Aviation Distress Incident").

3 Any misuse or use other than in an Aviation Distress Incident of The BREITLING EMERGENCY transmitter-watch may involve fines, penalties and lead to substantial financial expenses, in addition to the cost of rescue operations activated by the signal of the transmitter, which shall be borne by the Purchaser. The Purchaser of the BREITLING EMERGENCY watch shall be fully responsible for consequences of any misuse of the transmitter, including by any third party. Neither BREITLING USA nor the distributor or seller can be held responsible for any misuse of the transmitter and the Purchaser shall be responsible for any fines, penalties or expenses imposed upon or incurred by them as a result of any misuse of the transmitter by the Purchaser.

4 If the BREITLING EMERGENCY transmitter is used without distress, negligently, accidentally, unjustifiably or outside an Aviation Distress Incident, the reconditioning cost of the transmitter shall be borne by the Purchaser, whether the watch is covered by warranty or not. The Purchaser is informed that such reconditioning cost is at least equivalent to half of the suggested retail price of the BREITLING EMERGENCY watch. In any event, once the transmitter has been activated, it must be returned to a Breitling Service Center for reconditioning.

5 In the event of legitimate use of the transmitter, justified by an Aviation Distress Incident and certified by an official rescue organization, the BREITLING EMERGENCY watch shall be replaced at no cost to the Purchaser.

6 The Purchaser is informed that the function of the BREITLING EMERGENCY watch is as a supplemental safety device, to facilitate the location of the Purchaser in an Aviation Distress Incident, and is not to be used as a distress alerting device to activate rescue operations.

7 The purchaser communicates to BREITLING USA the information requested below and undertakes to inform BREITLING USA of any theft, loss or destruction of the watch whose serial number appears on this document. Such information shall be communicated to BREITLING USA and may be provided by the distributor, seller or BREITLING USA to the Federal Aviation Administration or other agencies of the United States government.
